

Wolverine Literacy Club Creed

By Mark D. Carlson

Been round the world and back again.
Learned how to ask questions, climbed Big Ben.

Activated my background knowledge,

Made connections taught in college!

Visualized the Battle of Thermopylae;

Defeat of the Spartans 480 B.C.

I read more books, write more pages,

Use more words than literary sages.

I make inferences with blazing speed

And determine the importance of what I read.

No book too thick, no text too hard, no words I cannot read,

I can--search and retrieve--ANY information I may need.

I'm a hard work'n, read'n, write'n, never give up fight'n scholar, hence...

A poet-warrior in the classic sense.

Ain't nothing penned that I can't hack,

Or summarize, or verbalize, or synthesize Jack!

Anything in life worth doing requires comprehension tools.

Moderate and passive learning is for the ignorant fools.

The ebb and flow of the ocean tides,

The flux of continents on their rides,

The precise position of the sun,

As it travels its ecliptic run...

THESE are just a few of the things expert readers and I control

In all of our respective worlds--understand...? Now you know, just how I roll!
